TALK NOT SO CHEAP. Talk is cheap, but it is an expenive proposition to publish it, according to statistics recently given by Senator Smoot in an address beforethe senate. He is the authority for the statement that more than thirty million copies of speeches, many containing information intended for campaign purposes, of President Wilson and other administration executives have been printed since July 1916. The cost of the printing is given as $442,798, not a large sum in comparison with the cost of the big nitrate plants, which produced no nitrate, but a substantial item of ex-

It is interesting to know the sources of these literary productions From the executive offices alone, Senator Smoot said, there were issued between July 1, 1916 and September 15, 1919, nearly eighty thousand pounds of speeches at a cost of $13,705.72. The state department [5] contributed but 1.513 pounds of wisdom at a cost of $527.02.

The treasury department was especially active in this direction, proof more than $86,000. The estimated weight of the paper used in the printing was 758,896 pounds. The war department showed a weakness names will appear in the order in which along this line producing but five hundred literary gems in printed form Mr. Burleson's postoffice department made up the difference, however, by issuing 165,000, while he agricultural department produced 144,000 and the department the railroad administration adds as an element in rate making.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS IS URGED

The following is the last section of an article prepared by H. B. Henderson, county superintendent, on Consolidated Schools:

Then there is the question of transportation. Here is where the greatest opposition comes, I shall treat it more fully than the previous objections discussed. The biggest problem in a consolidated school system is that of transportation of children from their homes in the early morning to the consolidated building, and returning them in the evening to their various scattered homes safe and comfortable. But the 11,000 consolidated schools in the United States in successful operation prove beyond a possibility of refutation that the problem of transportation is not serious enough to be a good reason for not establishing the larger and more efficient school system in the rural districts to take the place of the one teacher schools.

Those who oppose consolidation are obliged to muster all the objections against it and then misrepresent facts, in order to anywhere near justify their position. So I am not surprised to hear "wild" stories about transportation troubles. There are several "cut-and-dry" objections to consolidation that are nearly always heard when the subject is under consideration. I want to answer hese objections at this time.

"Children must not ride too far in hacks." The time the child remains in the hack varies with the distance of the home from the school building. The objection to the long trip comes largely from parents whose children must ride from the beginning of the hack route, and so involves but a limited number of children. I am not saying that these children do not deserve due consideration; on the contrary, I think that everything reasonably possible should be done to add to their comfort. But let us be fair in our criticism. When we consider that in a district maintaining a one-teacher school there are a number of children who must walk as much as two miles, in all kinds of weather, and frequently over the worst roads and paths, coming all too frequently to the school building tired, cold and wet, the objection loses much of its force when compared to this fact. What parent would not rather have his child ride to school in an official van, properly The demand for The Indianapolis inclosed, heated by means of foot warmer, or stove, and provided with blankets, even if the trip is five A child, properly dressed, is not like- vancement is possible. HOME MADE RECIPE

Nonexpensive-Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

WAS NERVOUS

RESTORED TO NORMAL HEALTH BY BIO-FEREN

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy-Bio-feren Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, ænemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for sweetens the breath because it makes the stomach sweet, cool and comfortable. Try it for that nasty taste, congested throat and "heady feeling" after too much smoking.

If neglected, Acid-Stomach may cause you a lot of serious trouble. It leads to nervousness, headaches, insomnia, melancholia, rheumatism, sciatica, heart trouble, ulcer and cancer of the stomach. It makes its millions of victims weak and miserable, listless, lacking in energy, all tired out. It often brings about chronic invalidism, premature old age, a shortening of one's days.

You need the help that EATONIC can give you if you are not feeling as strong and you if you are not feeling as strong and well as you should. You will be surprised

Some Novel Onion Dishes

The onion family is one of the most accommodating and valuable to culinary art among succulent vegetable families. Having no season, they are always in readiness, though we do not see them as often as we should, or in as many ways as we should, on the table. For those prejudiced against onions, owing to their clinging odor, it may be a comfort to know that the odor of the cooked onion passes in two or three hours, and, where just the juice is used in flavoring, it goes still more quickly; it is the odor of the raw cles is the traveling case onion which remains for several

The red onions are used almost exclusively for soup, in chopped pickles, as flavoring for boiled meats, or for juice. The yellow are usually boiled, and the white made into mixed dishes, salads, and creamed.

> The Spanish and Bermudas are the most delicate in flavor, also the most expensive, and are restricted by season. Scallions, eaten raw at their early prime, are used in salad and other ways, when they grow strong. Chives and shallots are used in salads and as flavoring. Leeks are valuable for soup and are used in some made dishes. Garlic, used with discretion. is one of the most valuable flavoring agents that the garden contributes, if properly used. Tiring of boiled onions, try some of the following recipes and get better acquainted with the onion family.

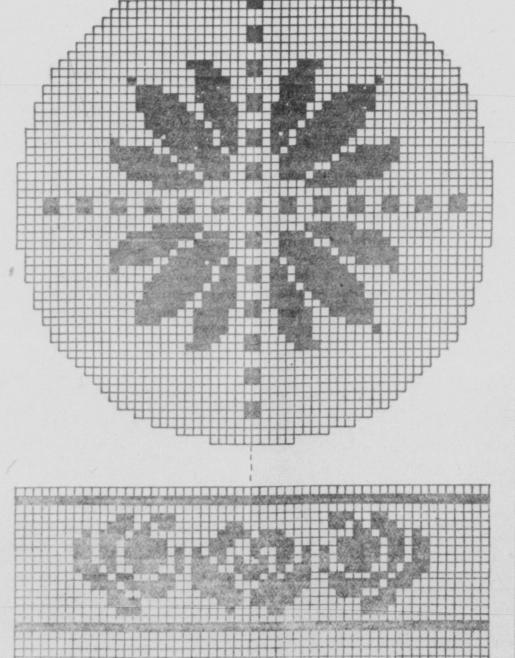

Escalloped Onions—Butter a pudding dish liberally. Slice in a layer of Spanish onion, dust with pepper, salt, a little sugar, dot with butter and spread with a light layer of crumbs. Continue until the dish is full. Sprinkle with grated cheese-Parmesan is best—and turn in the following sauce. Take a small can of tomatoes and add to it a cup of water, a sliced onion, celery, a bay leaf, a half bud of garlic, a half teaspoonful of curry powder, and a slice of bacon. Boil gently for half an hour, add pepper, salt, a little sugar and a little flour at thickening. Strain, turn over the onions and bake 25 minutes in a fairly hot oven. It is well to bear in mind that the onions cook down, so fill the dish fuller on that account. When tender enough to pierce with a stiff straw, the onions are done; then brown quickly on top and serve. If a little extra cheese is sprinkled over the top, just before the browning.
